

VACANCY

Department of Biochemistry, Faculty of Medicine University of Ruhuna.

Research Assistant (Full Time) – One position

Applications are invited from those interested in pursuing a PhD degree as a Research Assistant. Details of the project and the expected qualifications of the candidate are mentioned below.

Project	Single center phase II clinical trial of a herbal supplement for non-alcoholic fatty liver disease
Supervisors of the PhD	Prof Anoja Attanayake and Prof Thilak Weerathna Faculty of Medicine, University of Ruhuna
Expected qualifications	BSc (Hons) Biochemistry / Chemistry/Molecular Biology with a first-class or second upper division MBBS with a second upper division BSc (Hons) MLS/Pharmacy/ BPharm with a first-class or second upper division
Other requirements	Good analytical skills, competence in conducting laboratory experiments, and statistical data analysis
Priority	Probationary Lecturers who are attached to Sri Lankan Universities Candidates who reside in Galle Candidates who are familiar with medical statistics and have publications.

Application procedure: Send a cover letter, self-motivation statement, CV, and names of contact information of two unrelated referees to: anojaattanayake@med.ruh.ac.lk or anoja715@yahoo.com

Terms of employment: The appointment is for a time-bound project for 3 years

Stipend: Will be provided following NRC rates

Funding: National Research Council (NRC IDG 2024)

Application Closing Date: 03rd April 2025

